- Be content with your weakness.
- Weakness cause us to depend on God.
  - They prevent arrogance. Not only that, but they keep us humble.
- Our weakness also encourages fellowship between believers.
- While strength breeds an independent spirit, our limitations show how much we need each other.
  - That means other people are going to find healing in your wounds.
- Your greatest life message and most effective ministry will come out of your deepest hurts.
- God specializes in turning weakness into strengths.
- Honestly share your weakness.
  - Ministry begins with vulnerability.
  - The more you let down your guard, take off your mask, and share your struggles, the more God will be able to use you in serving others.
  - Humility is not putting yourself down or denying your strengths; rather, it is being honest about your weaknesses.
- Our strengths create competition, but our weakness creates community.
- The most essential quality for leadership is not perfection, but credibility.
  - Not by pretending to be perfect, but by being honest.
- If you want God to bless you and use you greatly, you must be willing to walk with a limp the rest of your life, because God uses weak people.

Questions to Consider

Am I limiting God's power in my life by trying to hide my weaknesses?
What do I need to be honest about in order to help others?
